Frequently Asked Questions:

- Can I seed at the same time ?
 - Yes. Combining aeration with seeding is an excellent idea. Aeration loosens up the soil, giving new plant roots “room to grow”. This applies to overseeding existing turf or planting new grass.
- What about Fertilizing ?
 - An application of fertilizer, along with heavy watering just after aeration, will greatly stimulate root growth. Deep watering every two or three days, for a few weeks after aerating, will cause the roots to grow deeper for increased strength during dry times.
- What are the benefits of aeration ?
 - Reduces soil compaction
 - Penetrates heavy thatch
 - Allows more efficient watering and fertilizing
 - Enhances root growth
 - Enriches surface soil
 - Decreases water run-off
